Stamford Mirror and Albany Weekly Argus for one year, at $1.50. Now is a good time to commence.

Mrs. McAlpine, mother of W. H. McAlpine, is sick at her home in Stamford.

Notice E. L. Seeley's bargain in boots, shoes and rubber goods advertised in this issue of the Mirror.

We learn that Wm. B. Turner, who used to preach in Roxbury, died in New York on Friday, Jan. 27.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Hastings, of Stamford Seminary, recently sprained her ankle and is compelled to use crutches.

A donation for the benefit of Rev. J. G. Patterson, will be held at Greyhound Inn, next Wednesday evening, to which all are invited.

A January thaw came last Friday. A heavy rain storm prevailed on Sunday and the snow has nearly all disappeared. Monday proved to be a pleasant day, and the air was full of sunshine.

Robert Craig and brother, of Harperfield, was taken Thursday. The former is troubled with weak eyes and soon intends visiting New York to have them examined by a specialist.

A case of mumps claims the attention of Lawyer C. L. Andrus, at his home on Delaware avenue. His objections are overruled and he is subject to the court of highest appeal.

The proceedings of the Delaware county board of supervisors come to our table in pamphlet form and comprise 129 pages. All of the papers are clear and nicely printed. Some one for the Delhi Republican job printing department.

An opportunity never before afforded granted all of hearing the far-famed speaker and singer, Chaplain McCabe, on his celebrated war theme, "The Bright Side of Life: Libby Prison." Also, a fine vocal and instrumental concert, in the Methodist church, tomorrow, next Tuesday evening, Jan. 31, at 8 o'clock.

Thomas C. Hornbeck, treasurer of the letter & Delaware railroad, and a popular young man, was married Jan. 24, at the residence of C. D. Bruyn, in Kingston, to Mrs. Ella Baldwin, a cousin of Mrs. Bruyn. The bride couple stood under an arch of flowers in a bay window of the parlor and the marriage service was read by Rev. Lewis T. Patton, of St. John's church.

The Catskill Mountain Post sent a Christmas present to the publisher of "Van der Vliet's Mountain Guide," accompanied by a few lines of jingling rhyme: "The highest peak, the grand old Skit, Sends a merry Christmas to the Guide. And from High Peak to Wittenberg, The loudest echo now is heard; And may success attend the book That tells the boarders where to look."

The Church Review is the title of a religious monthly publication printed at Delhi and edited by Rev. George Benedictson. It is lively, interesting and well-timed. At the low price of 50 cents a year it ought to have a large circulation. We wish publishers and editors success. The outside and inside titles of the magazine are improved, typographically.

Mr. David C. Aiken, of Brooklyn, has sent the Mirror with a copy of the Daily Age Almanac for 1893. It is a handsome book of 353 pages and the cover page is an artistic piece of printing. The book contains a list of the city and much useful information concerning Brooklyn and its civil government. A donor will please accept our thanks for kind remembrance.

G. G. Bolles, of Unadilla, was in town yesterday on his way to Stamford, for a visit to "Champ" of the Mirror—Onondaga, N. Y., Jan. 24.

Yes, Mr. B. came, met with the G. A. men of John A. Logan Post, the Delta sister of Royal Arch Masons, and many of the "little birds," not forgetting here a chat with Champ, on politics, religion, poetry and rhymes. A turkey supper at Delaware House, Friday evening, closed visit to Stamford.

Last week D. V. Chickster, of this city, disposed of his stock of dry goods, groceries and fancy goods, to Joseph Millan. Mr. Millan has lately been clerking in a boot and shoe store at Rondout. Not liking the locality, he has returned to Stamford and is now engaged in business for himself. He is not ranked to Stamford people, having clerked for J. C. Van Dyke, and Van Dyke and Hand, for 14 years. The Mirror wishes him success.

F. G. Bolles, of Unadilla, was in Stamford nearly all last week on business. His time was instructing Delta Chapter of this order, and a general rehearsal of songs, dances and ranks. The work began last evening and continued five evenings, ending each session of which there was a large number of brethren, and it could be plainly seen from the earnest conversations of all groups of Masons at the conclusion of instruction that Delta Chapter's "goat" been prepared to do an excellent service in the future. The affair was brought to a close on Friday evening, when a lantern was spread at the Delaware House. Preparations had been made by Hosts, and turkey, chicken, sweetmeats and a bed of the season were served in abundance. After a careful examination of the work, it was determined how they used a compass to determine how they used a line, and in 1893, a new thing declared in a notice and the Masons held a large dining hall, and the German given a happy surprise. Mr. Bolles left Stamford Saturday morning and proceeded to his home.

MIRROR REFLECTIONS.

Editor Mayham called at the Mirror office yesterday.

Clark C. Canfield is the new clerk at the Goodell Hamilton House.

William McComb is absent from town, visiting his sister at Delhi.

Read the article entitled "That Wicked Plague" on first page. It is of local interest.

O. B. Grant, D. O. Hoagland and H. C. Lawrence have new advertisement in this issue of the Mirror.

Frank M. Andrus, George W. Lauren, Roxbury, and M. D. Stratton, of Chicago, called at the Mirror sanctum yesterday.

Worthless street dogs entered the premises of W. B. Churchill, Sunday afternoon, and killed several choice hens.

The new bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman L. Bennett, were guests of Mrs. S. E. Kendall on Delaware Ave., last week.

The teachers will not meet at Stamford Seminary, in February, as proposed. No examinations will be held until sometime in May.

Will Wheeler traded horses Saturday with Geo. Dods of Arkville. Duncan Lamport has traded his horse with an Onondaga man for a pair with a record of 9:35. Clear the track!

Liam Craft has purchased the John B. Griffin farm on the Jefferson road about a mile north of Stamford, and bordering on Lake Umbagog. He is to take possession at once.

Miss Barabell Bayle, a former student of Delaware Academy and graduate of the Onondaga Normal School has been offered a position in one of the Washington City schools at a salary of $650 per year.

Benjamin J. Winne, Lovisa S. Winne and Alois E. Winne, accompanied by their wives, will go to Southern Florida this week, from Kingston. Quite a number of Delaware county tourists are visiting the "perpetual garden of flowers," this winter.

Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, rector of Trinity Church, New York, has ordered from the Clinton H. Mendenhall Company, at Troy, a bell to be placed in the Episcopal Church at Cooperstown, as a memorial of his father, Gen. John A. Dix.

The man who fools with a dirty, daubing rubber stamp, instead of letting a printer do a decent job for him, is wasting his time and losing money.—Richfield Mercury.

You can't make him believe it no quicker than you can make some business men believe that advertising pays.

The surveys for the new railroad are about to make another survey from the vicinity of Stamford over into Schoharie county to see if some other route of reasonable grade cannot be found. The route surveyed via Grand George is said to be fully ten miles longer than the route they propose to survey, and which they hope to find favorable enough to be adopted.

The death of Mrs. Barbara Halsey, which occurred on Tuesday, calls to mind some unusual coincidences. Mrs. Lillian McDonald, who died less than a week ago, was a cousin to Mrs. Halsey. They were born the same day, lived together quite a portion of their lives and have always lived in the same neighborhood, so have rarely ever been separated. Their regard for each other has been much more than friendly or cousinly, and their long and intimate companionship undoubtedly made existence apart unendurable. Mrs. Halsey although in her usual health, sunk rapidly and steadily after the death of Mr. McDonald until her own death occurred, as stated.—Hartford Independent.

The West Shore R.R. announces its first annual mid-winter excursion to Washington city for Wednesday, Feb. 1, round-trip tickets, good going only on special train leaving Kingston, at 4:00 P. M., and returning until Sunday, Feb. 13, will be sold at $10 each, and will permit of stop-over on the return journey at Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York within time limits of tickets. Congress is now in session, and all the handsome public buildings are open to the public. Excursions are offered reduced rates at all hotels; the equipment of the excursion—cars, which run through without change, is first-class.

Skating on the ice is thought to be one of the most pleasant of winter sports, but when a person seeks out to skate 100 miles in a certain number of hours, it destroys the fun for skaters. Last week three champion skaters, John Banta, Joe Donoghue and A. Franklin, met on a little pond of water over near Stamford, Conn., and skated from 8:15 A. M. to 3:45 P. M., skating 100 miles. Joe Donoghue, a lad of 17 years, won the championship, however, by skating the 100 miles in 7 hours, 11 minutes and 58 1/2 seconds.

An oak tree was recently cut on a farm near Bedford, Ind., which yielded a log 40 feet in length, six feet in diameter and 4 1/2 feet at the top. The log is without knot or blemish of any kind, and will be exhibited at the world's fair.

It is believed that J. G. Carlisle will be Secretary of the Treasury, and Daniel S. Lamont Secretary of the Navy, in President Cleveland's Cabinet.

The donation at South Worcester, for the benefit of Rev. Mr. Quick, netted about $35.

Rather than be arrested on a charge of stealing chickens, Fred Mason, of Windsor, shot and killed himself a few days ago.

County Treasurer Honeywell now has his office in the Court House.

There is a big strike at the Brooks Locomotive works at Dunkirk, and the sheriff of Erie county has called for State troops to help him protect the property.

James McMorris has traded his house and lot in Worcester, with C. L. Mardock for his hotel property in Charlottville. Possession given March 13.

Harper's Monthly for February has two valuable articles of biography. One by Anna Fields on "Whittier," the other by Rev. John Chadwick on "George William Curtis," both finely illustrated.

The Sandwich Islands want to join the United States. It is not surprising. Where else could their people wish to go? Where else could they find safety and the hope of liberty and progress?

Russell Sage, for $20,000, has bought the first mortgage bonds of the Poughkeepsie, Hartford & Boston railroad.

The new Centennial Congregational church of Worcester, is now near completion. The history of this church will necessarily include much of history of this town, and will fill an interesting and important part of the dedication services.

WATER CO. MEETINGS.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the water companies was held at Stamford, N. Y., Jan. 17, 1893. The following are the officers of each company:

The Catskill Water Co.—W. H. Cowan, President; G. N. Cowan, Secretary; G. N. Cowan, Treasurer; S. P. Burger, Sup.; A. R. Wescott, Asst. Superintendent; D. E. Powell, Collector.

The Onondaga Water Co.—George N. Cowan, President; James B. Cowan, Secretary and Treasurer; O. May, Superintendent.

The Schoharie Water Co.—G. N. Cowan, President; James B. Cowan, Secretary and Treasurer; C. M. Reed, Collector.

The Yorkville Water Co.—G. N. Cowan, President; W. R. Brock, Vice-President; James B. Cowan, Secretary and Treasurer; W. F. Parsons, Superintendent; E. Brown, Asst. Superintendent; C. O. Polgry, Collector.

The Livingston Manor Water Co.—President, W. R. Brock; Secretary, W. F. Parsons; Treasurer, W. H. Cowan; Superintendent, J. Stevens.

The Arkville Water Co.—President, W. H. Cowan; Secretary, W. R. Brock; Treasurer, W. R. Brock; Collector, Eugene Ganoung.

G. N. Cowan, Secretary of the Catskill Water Company, has received the decision of the General Term, Fifth Department, of this State, in the action entitled: F. S. Oakes, Appellant, vs. The Catskill Water Company, Respondent, of this place. The decision was in favor of the Company and affirms the judgment of the Court below. The action has been pending for nearly two years and attracted widely the public attention. This decision affirms the fact that the company possessed whatever merits there were in the controversy, as it will be remembered that on the first trial the company presented no evidence in defense, but submitted the merits of the case to the Court on the testimony of the plaintiff and his witnesses.

He Removed the Objection.

William H. Stutz, a member of the theological class of Hartwick Seminary, received an appointment as instructor and superintendent of the instruction department in the Cherokee Indian reservation, Swain county, N. C. There were forty-nine competitors for the position. The chief objection to Mr. Stutz was that he was unmarried. He, however, telegraphed that he could remove the objection. Accordingly on Jan. 18th, he and Miss Cora Spencer, of Millford, were married by Rev. F. E. Oberlander, of Syracuse.

On the Right Track.

At a recent meeting of the Unadilla academy trustees, it was unanimously voted to offer the academy, its furniture, library and apparatus, the grounds, and the interest and income from the $10,000 endowment fund, to the Board of Education of the new union free school of that village for rent at six cents per year. To outsiders, this seems a splendid solution to the school question down there.

The Constitutional Convention.

Governor Flower has signed the bill amending the constitutional convention law of last winter. Under its provisions the election of delegates is postponed to the next fall election, and the convention is to convene in the assembly chamber in Albany on the second Tuesday of May in 1894.

The delegates are to be chosen five from each senatorial district and fifteen at large, and each one is to receive as compensation ten dollars per day, with the same mileage as is now allowed to members of the legislature. The convention must conclude its labors on or before September 15, 1894; at any rate the law says the delegates shall not be paid for any services rendered after that date.

Death Record.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds died at the residence of her son-in-law, Edward Bryant, Delaware avenue, Delhi, Jan. 26, aged 87 years. She removed here last spring, has been blind for many years, and in feeble health, and for some weeks her disease would not have been a matter of surprise. She was grandmother of Mrs. Dr. Thompson—Del. Rep.

Rev. Edwin Thompson, born in Delhi, died in Nelson, Pa., Nov. 3, aged 98 years.

The New York State World's Fair Managers have thus far spent $143,148.38, leaving $168,851.62 of the $300,000 appropriated, still unexpended.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Great banks of snow that rested on the roof of the Manufacturers building at 16 by 600 feet in the east annex or nave to-day and caused $100,000 damage. The weight of the snow, before the rain of last night and to-day was about all the roof could bear, and when it was soaked and became still heavier the crash was bound to come.

Group at Plainfield, N. Y.

My boy, five years of age, was recently taken with a severe attack of croup and I thought sure that I would lose him. I had seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, and concluded to try it, and am happy to say that after two doses he was relieved and slept all night. He had another attack the next night, I gave the same remedy and a prompt cure was effected. I feel that I cannot praise this remedy too highly.—J. B. Campbell, 58 Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will not only cure croup, but will prevent it. It freely given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. Several doses are usually required. There is no danger in giving it freely, as it contains nothing injurious. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by W. D. Robertson, Druggist.

A Surprise.

The employees of Trugrutha, Hoyt & Co., surprised their old employer, John Trugrutha, Tuesday evening, by invading his house to the number of eighteen or twenty and bringing with them a handsome centre table and cover. Mr. Trugrutha was completely taken by surprise, but soon recovered himself and feigning thanked the men for their kindness. The sentiment which prompted the gift more even than the gift itself is prized by Mr. Trugrutha.—Walton Reporter.
